Fire District Case Of City Under Submission

The case of the City of Campbell against the Central Fire District and the County Board of Supervisors over assets of the fire district at the time Campbell was incorporated was heard yesterday in the court of Superior Judge William F. James who took it under submission when evidence was in at 3:15 in the afternoon.

There was considerable documentary evidence submitted, but the chief contention was $3700 allegedly due the city, which County contended is offset by standby services. Campbell was represented in court by Joseph Bonacina, city attorney while the county was represented by Howard Campen, County Council. Among witnesses called were Mayor Richart Morton and Fire Chief Jack Scott from Campbell, and Chief Henry Lingua of the Central Fire District. Some $6000 in cash and $3700 in properties is sought by plaintiffs.

In the petition for writ of mandate, it was pointed out that from March 28, 1952 to June 30, 1952 the Fire District collected taxes on the real property which had been withdrawn from the district.

San Tomas Boulevard Plans Here Tonight

A resolution proposing to re-zone property at the northeast corner of Latimer avenue and Winchester Road from commercial to multiple dwelling is on the agenda for the meeting tonight of the Campbell Planning Commission. The property is owned by David Rutherford, who last week reported to the Press that it had been sold to a major oil company, in a transaction handled by the W. H. Lee Realty Company of San Jose.

A tentative map of a 16-duplex subdivision for A. M. Pontiatoff and A. D. Nearon on Latimer avenue will be submitted for commission approval. Now a part of Rice tract, zoned R-3-S the application is to rezone for R-2-S.

Norm Corvello has announced his partnership with Cel Gerevas in the Campbell Hardware Company has been dissolved and he is now sole owner. Gerevas has returned to his previous type of employment as salesman which he held before joining Corvello in their business venture in 1946.

The store will be open Thursday and Friday evenings until 9:00 p. m.

DISTRICT 4 TO PROVIDE SEWERS SARATOGA AREA

Directors of Sanitation District No. 4 last night voted to go ahead with sewering the north Saratoga area as a unit of the East Campbell Assessment proceedings. The streets to get sewers will be Thelma Avenue, Franklin Avenue and Saratoga Vista Avenue. Stephen Goodman, manager, said a petition had been filed March 2 by 51 per cent of property owners seeking sanitary sewers.

An application to withdraw from the district was filed by a Dave Bohannon tract of 30 acres bounded on the north by Prune Ridge avenue, west by Saratoga avenue, south by Forest avenue and East by City of San Jose.

District authorized purchase of a sewer flushing truck for $3400.

Report of John Francisco, on audit of July 1953 to July, 1954, was favorable.

Campbell Cancer Fund Quota $1200

C. E. Bradley, Campbell chairman of the 1955 Cancer Crusade, through the month of April, announced today that the Campbell quota has been set at $1200 by the local committee.

"This goal represents our share in the tremendous research program going on all over the country in the fight against cancer by the American Cancer Society," Bradley said.

"For example, right here in our own county, the ACS gave $95,157 towards this vital research at Stanford University last year. The funds also support the important year-round educational services and program of our local unit," he added.

He explained that the program of public education was carried on at industrial plants, schools, civic organizations and employee groups through the use of cancer society movies and literature, and qualified speakers, all sponsored by the Santa Clara County branch of the ACS.

"Your generous donations are vitally needed to carry on this battle against the Nation's No. 2 killer," Bradley urged.

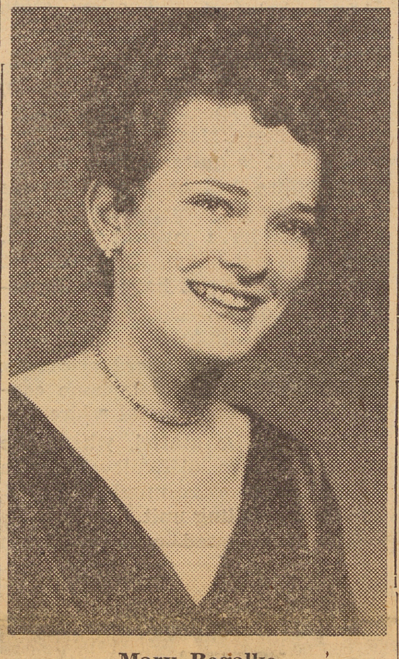
Also considered for architectural approval was a plan for ddition to existing public utility, San Jose Water Works, Camden and Union avenues.

Mary Begalke To Reign As Queen Over Celebrations

Mary Begalke, 18 year old senior at Campbell High, will reign as Queen over the three day Old Settler's celebration from April 29 through May 1 She was announced winner Saturday night by Dr. Howard Manson, chairman of the Queen contest, who presented her with a dozen red roses and a gift dress certificate before an audience of approximately 400 persons.



Mary Begalke
Old Settler's Day Queen

Mary was sponsored by Eta Phi Hi-Y and won over five other candidates, Ethyll Dorman, Sherry Robinson, Carole Foster, Priscilla Hutchenson and Pat Burch. The queen was determined by the largest number of tickets to the Variety Show sold by each of the six school clubs sponsoring a candidate in the contest.

The candidates were introduced by Dr. Robert Jasmine, general chairman of Old Settlers' Day Celebration and each presented with a bouquet of flowers.

Prior to the announcement of the Queen, Dr. Jasmine was introduced to the audience by Ebb Bohn, master of ceremonies and director of the show. He in turn introduced Sam P. Cava, president of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce which is sponsoring the celebration; Dr. Howard Manson; Dr. Orville Bacci, ticket chairchairman; and John Chargin, city councilman representing Mayor Morton, each of whom spoke briefly concerning his activities in the coming celebration.

The Variety show was well received by an enthusiastic audience who viewed acts ranging through comedy, tap, vocalists, dancing groups, bands and instrumental numbers from top entertainers in this area, many of whom have appeared on TV number of times and are also members of Ebb Bohn's radio KEEN "Stars In the Future" show.

FIREHOUSE GETS NEW PAINT JOB

Apparently women are not the only ones who think in terms of Spring cleaning in Campbell.

Firemen Bruce Gammon and Bill Morgan were found Wednesday morning vigorously wielding a paint brush on the walls of their quarters, a pale green color adding much to its improvement. The walls have not been painted since the firehouse was built which makes the painting a little difficult in spots, but the two painters say the satisfaction they are getting from watching the color spread over the walls is well worth all the work.

PG&E Tells Need For Substation To Be Built Here

Widespread growth of the Los Gatos, Campbell, Cupertino, Monte Vista area has resulted in large-scale planning to keep the electrical supply ahead of demands there, W. B. Bowler, San Jose Division mnager of Pacific Gas and Electric Company, said today.

"Just as two-lane roads have been broadened into freeways to accommodate more people, we are bringing high-voltage power into the growing regions to augment smaller circuits which are fast becoming inadequate," Bowler said.

Already under construction south of San Jose is Metcalf Substation, near Coyote. At a cost of $2,460,000, the Metcalf station will make high-voltage electricity available throughout the area to its west and northwest. For the first time, this area will receive power transmitted at 220,000 and 110,000 volts,

As soon as rights of way can be cleared, Bowler said, a 220,000-volt line will be built to Monte Vista Substation and a 110,000-volt circuit will be extended into a new substation planned for the outskirts of Campbell. These lines will be fed through Metcalf Substation by lines from Moss Landing Steam Plant and from Newark Substation.

Both of the new high-voltage cuits have been made necessary by the rapid growth of the region and will "firm up' supplies which now are reaching their limits, Bowler said. The proposed new Campbell Substation, which will reduce the 110,000-volt power down to 12,000 and 4,000 volts for local distribution, will serve an area of little more than a three-mile radius, he noted.

PG&E engineers estimate that the new Campbell Substation will accommodate a power load of about four times the peak of 15,700 kilowatts recorded in the area last December.

"The way in which the area is expanding," Bowler said, "makes it obvious that we are not building any too soon. The continually increasing number of new homes and business places in the area will require more power than the existing lines are able to provide."

BIDS CALLED FOR NEW SCHOOL IN CAMBRIAN PARK

Bids were called today for a new, 10-classroom school in the Cambrian district to be located on Harris avenue at Custer near Campbell, the bids to be opened Wednesday evening, April 20.

John M. Evans, of Evans and Lincoln, 2181 Lincoln avenue are the architects. Besides the classrooms and other facilities there is to be a multi-use room and an administration room. Rapid growth of the district and an increasing enrollment already over capacity of the two existing schools in the district, has established a need for this ne wschool, according to Delos M. Bagby, district superintendent.

SANTA CLARA HAS NEW POLICE CHIEF

New Postal Route Serves In East Area

Because of substantial development with new homes in the East Campbell section, a new postal delivery route was created, making ten routes now serving Campbell according to Ira Grim, postmaster. Some 6000 homes, 300 postoffice boxholders and 100 general delivery patrons are now served at the Campbell postoffice. The new route area is built up over 50% with homes, has paved streets and street lights.

Carrier for the new City Route No. 8 is Jack Adams. It embraces the area East of San Jose-Los Gatos Road to Leigh Avenue, South of Hamilton Avenue. Bulk of the stops were taken from Route 6 but there were also slices from Rural routes 1 and 2. Other changes, Postaster Grim said was taking all Latimer from R-2 and assigning to C-5, while Union avenue and part of Dry Creek Road was transferred from R-1 to C-3.

Dan Yager, carrier for Rural Route 1 is up for retirement in June at which time that route will become a city mounted delivery route.

The Campbell postoffice in a six year period changed from a third to a first class rating from annual increase in receipts from $12,000 to $75,000.

World Affairs Sponsoring Asian Speakers April 11

Speakers for the Asia Town Hall Mission being sponsored by the San Jose World Affairs Council will be Musa Nasir, from Jordan, and Mohamad Roem, from Indonesia. The program, which will feature a "Meet The Press" panel, will be held Monday evening, April 11, at 8:00 p. m. in the First Congregational Church of San Jose located on Hamilton Avenue at Leigh. Panel members will be Joe Houghteling, of the Los Gatos Daily Times; Charles Goodman of the Mercury-News; Gordon Grebb, of radio station KSJO; and Vivian Faulkner, of the Campbell Press. The meeting is open to the public.

The plan of the Mission is to bring twelve outstanding Asians to the United States that have been selected on the basis of their ability to speak excellent English as well as for their competence to speak both about their conutry and about a particular regional topic. They have been chosen entirely apart from political considerations, as the chief aim of their their visit is to bring information and to interest broadly the Asian viewpoint to an American audience, rather than to take positions on current political issues.

Musa Nasir was born in Bir-Zeit, 18 miles north of Jerusalem. He is a graduate of the American University of Beirut and was drafted into the Ottoman Army in World War I. He served as an officer in the British Mandatory Government of Palestine from 1918 to 1946 and was concerned primarily with rural development. Since Jordan became independent in 1946, he has acted as Minister of Communications and as Minister of Finance in the new government, occupying himself mainly with problems of the 500,000 Arab refugees from Palestine now living in Jordan. Nasir's principal interest is in the fild of education. He is a director of a junior college, a Christian, and an officer of the Jerusalem Y. M. C. A.

Mohamad Roem was born in Java and in student days was active in Boy Scouts and other youth movements. He obtained his law degree at Djakarta Law College in 1939 and entered the practice of law. Since the outbreak of the Indonesian Independence movement in 1945, he has been one of the leaders of the Masjumi, the Moslem Political Party. During the four year Indonesian struggle for Independence from the Dutch Roem served as Minister in several revolutionary cabinets, and played a leading role in the negotiations which led finally to Dutch recognition of the Republic of the United States of Indonesia in 1949. Since then he has served successively as Minister without portfolio, first High Commissioner to the Hague, Minister of Foreign

Grange Is Riled Over Valley Water Shortage

More than 125 members of twelve subordinate Granges were present when Orchard City Grange entertained Santa Clara County Pomona Grange at the I. O. O. F. Hall last Saturday night. Prior to the business meeting a dinner was served by the Santa Clara Youth Grange. This was the second such dinner served by the young people and was considered a great success.

Assemblyman Bruce Allen who was introduced by Allen Cary, Santa Clara County Pomona master, talked about the seriousness of the water shortage in this valley, and of his bill No. 8762 which proposes that revenue from the Long Beach Oil concessions be used to bring water from the Feather River into Santa Clara Valley.

The water situation was continued after the meeting opened and resulted in proposals that the master appoint a committee to get more information from recognized authorities for the members; get speakers to explain the many different ideas on bringing water into this valley; and to do something more about this situation than just talk about it. The final opinion was that it is time for Engineers to get busy on this project.

Ed Thomas, master of Mt. Hamilton Grange, reported that wells in the Evergreen district are so low that 74 members needing water cannot be supplied, and in case of a fire there will not be sufficient water available to fight it. Similar conditions were reported from other districts.

David Kaye, managing director of the Santa Clara County Chapter of the National Safety Council, gave an informative talk on accident prevention on the highway, in the home, and on the farm.

Musical entertainment was provided by Fred Bentley who sang several operatic numbers accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Bentley.

It was announced that Orchard City Grange will have a combined Easter and Past Master's Night program at the next meeting on April 12th.

DIRECTORS ARE NOMINATED FOR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce at a meeting Tuesday evening accepted reports of committee chairmen relative to Old Settler Day celebration, one of which proposes to have a well-rated carnival set up for the three days at the Hunt Cannery lands on Harrison avenue, while another would engage an orchestra for the dance in the Girls Gymnasium at the high school.

The Chamber directors went on record in favor of having the Southern Pacific make a regular stop here, or at least a flag stop on the new schedule, San Jose to San Francisco via Vasona Junction, Los Altos and Palo Alto.

Final approval of the city council as to how the carnival is to be conducted awaits the final action of the Chamber of Commerce. William H. Myer of Menlo Park is owner of the carnival which plays at civic functions and fairs throughout northern California.

Five directors were nominated by a committee headed by Joaquin Payne, four to be elected by membership at large, to serve two year terms. There are four holdover directors, and Sam Cava, on completing his term of office will become the ninth member. Those nominated are Norman Corvello, hardware store owner; Lester Lafferty, publisher; Douglas Beatty, manager Western Gravel; Don Weitzel, Insurance and Milt Nelson, co-owner of a feed and garden supply store.

Dance Committee chairman Robert Landreth's recommendation of Bob Derry's orchestra of 8-pieces and a vocalist was approved for the Saturday night dance.

Many entries are arriving for the parade, President Cava said.

PIANO CONCERT FOR COMMUNITY SERVICE FUNDS

Thomas Ryan, pianist, will give a concert for the benefit of Family Service Association of Santa Clara County Tuesday, April 12 at 8:30 P. M. in Montgomery Theater.

Ryan is Associate Professor of Music at San Jose State College. He has concertized extensively throughout the United States from New York's Town Hall to San Francisco's Marine Memorial Theater. Since coming to San Jose in 1948, he has been an outstanding force in good music. Through his college concerts and other appearances, he has built up an enthusiastic following.

A Red Feather Agency of the Community Chest, the Family Service Association provides professional counseling to disturbed families to prevent divorce, delinquency, and mental illness. The group's work includes family counseling, parent discussion groups and community service activities to foster healthy family living.

All proceeds from the concert will be used to reduce the number of families on the present waiting list for family counseling, as the demand for family counseling from citizens of this area is far in excess of counseling that can be provided even by increasing Community Chest support.

ALVISO DUMP FEE COSTLY

A 25c per load inspection fee is called for in an ordinance approved by the Alviso city council to be charged against garbage and refuse disposers at the city dump. The law requires fill and cover for garbage companies.

Campbell residents have alleged that as much as $2 per load was charged at the Alviso dump on Sunday by caretakers, when the San Jose dump is closed.

EDITORIAL

SUCH IS LIFE

Once in a while, when the misdeeds of youngsters are played up in the headlines, we ponder over what is happening to the younger generation. We see youngsters wearing holsters with guns on each hip, and listen to them at play with their machine-gun chatter, cowboy commands and gangster drawls, then ponder some more. We see them attentive to TV programs; we peek in the cupboards and see a dozen or so packages of breakfast foods only partially used but always with the coupon removed for getting something which the youngster will say you can't buy in any other way. Then we ponder some more.

Then we pick up the home-town paper and read where Joe's boy down the street was one of a half-dozen or more who got an award from American Trust Co. for producing the best exhibit at an FHA show. We go to a talent show such as the one at the Campbell High school last Saturday night and see and hear youngsters we see about town from time to time, performing this night with talent equivalent to professionals. We read in the home-town paper about some Camp Fire girls calling on a boy classmate afflicted with polio, and continuing these calls quietly each month for three years relating as classmates what is going on in their world. We read of a Campbell girl stricken with polio who by sheer determination fought on to walk agan and become an honor student at high school.

Then we let the home-town paper droop a bit and wonder about the kids with the toy guns poking them against our ribs as we get in our car to drive off to work, and remember how as boys we, too, played cops and robbers using a stick, shaped like a gun, and we walk to the window and see girls with white cloth bandaging make-believe wounds, just like girls used to bandage the wounds of the victims in our cops and robber period. So again we ponder.

There is a wealth of evidence that our young people as a whole are basically sober-minded, sincere and quite anxious to contribute something constructive to modern society. The Achievement Awards program sponsored by Bank of America seems to recognize achievements of students not merely in excellence of school work, but in self-improvement and in service to others. There is a multitude of scholarships, sports awards, achievement awards in which there is general recognition, for someone for some organization must sponsor these tests. On the other hand there is much that youth of today does which goes on unnoticed and unheralded, just as it has been doing for generations.

Somehow these acts of youth flower into character with the passage of time. Imaginations of youth sober with realities of life; toy guns are shelved with rag dolls, and young men and women work into public affairs and assume civic responsibilities, build homes, raise families, then they too begin to ponder over the waywardness of youth. And such is life.

EASTER

Easter, like Spring, brings with it a renewal of hope and courage, a renewal of the promise not only of eternal life, but of a better life here and now.

The Resurrection of the Man of Galilee was the crowning proof of his teachings which constantly stressed love and the brotherhood of man. His was not weakness. It was a strength such as the world had never seen.

If we accept the Resurrection as proof of life beyond the grave, it is equally important that we accept the simple rules of living which Jesus preached in the Sermon on the Mount. One is no less important than the other.

To wait for others to show a Christian spirit first is not a Christian attitude. To be mean and petty during the year and then to make a show of attending church on Easter betrays a poor concept of Christ and Christianity.

Easter has its lighter side — the fun for the youngsters, the traditional Easter parade, and the happy family get-togethers. But church attendance should be prompted by something deeper than the desire to see, or be part of, a fashion display.

Have fun on Easter, but take time to contemplate the meaning of Easter and let its meaning go with you, not just for the day, but throughout the year.

ROOM FOR PRAYER

A small room, simple in decor, has just been opened on the rotunda floor of the Capitol at Washington. In it will be held, perhaps, some of the most important conferences that the Nation can hope for in the months and years to come.

These conferences will not be between committees of the Senate and the House, nor between bureaucrats and solons. They will be private, silent conferences between burdened men and their God. For this quiet retreat is the Capitol's new Prayer Room.

Conceived in sincerity and executed in dignity, this non-denominational corner of the world's most important seat of Government is dedicated to man's faith in a higher power. Its one stained-glass window—the gift of an anonymous group of California artists and craftsmen—depicts George Washington kneeling in prayer, and bears the words of the first verse of the 16th Psalm:

"Preserve me, O God: for in Thee do I put my trust."

To its own members, and through them to men of all faiths, Congress has given a beautiful Easter gift. In our Capitol today there is a Prayer Room. In our Nation today there is surely room for prayer.

The Campbell Gambol

PAUSE IN THIS GAMBOL to note that a certain teacher inclined to be thrifty out Moorpark way, is sorry now she took advantage of a December end-of-the month sale to buy her 1955 Christmas cards bearing the wording, "from the two of us" as she is now wondering what to do with those 150 cards unless she follows the suggestion of our printer friend that there be added a postscript to the effect that since going to press with the above message, the family status has changed and in September there became "three of us" and we all wish you a Merry Christmas.

TEACHERS Are fluttering about everywhere within a thousand mile radius of their teaching base this Easter vacation, two from Los Angeles County having been guests over the week-end in my house hold, my sister and her daughter, my niece . . . I began to learn a few things about my boyhood that had never been told before, me being the youngest member of the family . . . about the time all the neighborhood children were being vaccinated, then the takeoff of the way it was done by my sister and her pal, scratching our arms with a pen knife then putting wet brick-dust on it to resemble blood, except that in one case an arm got infected and there was a rush with the victim in the buggy to the doctor and with the would-be nurse to the woodshed for immediate and positive attention . . . and I heard a lot more in a learned way about vitamins and calories, asking as a layman, how they differed and causing quite an argument, which summed up told me that one was good for me and the other wasn't, and I attributed this to progressive education which got me knee-deep in another argument.

OSCARS Were given out in Hollywood and I suppose they know what they are doing down there in handing out Academy Awards, for such pictures as "On The Waterfront", the "Country Girl", and the "Barefoot Contessa" but how they can ignore pictures like Disney's "Vanishing Prairie" for its tolerant photography of wild life, of "Deep In My Heart" the life story of Sigmund Romberg with 20 top-talent stars, is more than I can figure out, except that my taste probably varies with the judges but not with the crowd of patrons lining up to see these shows and going away saying they will tell Aunt Bess, Uncle Joe and cousin Sue to be sure and see it . . . and that brings up another question regarding the Campbell Theatre which has been down for repairs for a couple of weeks and now has its one-card cases loaded with features being shown at Los Gatos Theatre where most of the time they show one good picture and one of the other kind.

BEES ARE BUZZING About the bushes and buds in all the gardens as blossom petals fall and flowers open for Spring, the golden poppies are painting fields out San Tomas and Almaden way, the pear blossoms are hugging the closely pruned trees, the tulips and the daffodils are nodding at each other along walkways, robins are hopping about on freshly watered lawns pulling worms from out of the ground, and when I turned the water on for the first time a sunburned frog hopped across the warm sidewalk rushing to get away from the spray as if to say, swimming is not for me, and it beats me where it came from all of a sudden, so I turned some water on him from the hose, and he turned instinctively to get more of it.

BOYS With .22 calibre rifles shooting at cans near the trap and skeet club off White Oak Road are said to have hit irrigation pipe doing some leakage damage, so likely as not, some no trespassing signs will be seen that 'a way soon, and they won't apply to skeet club members who have established targets . . . boys too, are being used today for the first time by the Campbell Press for morning delivery, the circulation manager being Robert Cameron, who came here recently from Temple City where he inaugurated delivery service for the Temple City Times, also at Pasadena and Honolulu, and Cameron says that the boys who have applied for routes in Campbell are some of the nicest he has yet worked with which covers some twenty years.

Local Contractor Injured At Work

Thayer Lyons, of 119 Carlyn Avenue, contractor of the new Methodist church being built on Winchester Road, is in a San Jose hospital recuperting from an eye injury received late Saturday evening while working on the Church building. Lyons was removing a board from the scaffolding when a large splinter broke off, striking him in the eye and piercing the eye-ball.

Monday Mrs. Lyons said that the injury was not as critical as first supposed but is still considered serious enough by their doctor to warrane a few days treatment in the hospital before returning to work.

Kiwanis Clubs To Get Charters

Two new Kiwanis Clubs are to receive charters Saturday evening, April 16 in a program in the Rose Room at Rickey's Palo Alto at which Kiwanis wives may attend.

Harold Heimbaugh of Los Angeles, Governor of the California-Nevada-Hawaii District is to be present.

William Henley of Campbell, Lt. Governor of the district has been instrumental in organizing these new clubs which are the Quito-Saratoga Club and the Cupertino Club, the former having been sponsored by the Campbell and the Los Gatos Kiwanis Clubs while the latter was sponsored by the Sunnyvale and Los Altos clubs.

Day Promoted; New PG&E Power Chief Appointed

The promotion of Elias S. Day, San Jose Division electric superintendent, to the managership of the six-county North Bay Division and the selection of Gwynn E. Bishop to succeed him were disclosed today by Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

Day, a 32-year veteran with PG&E, will move to San Rafael and take the place of W. Frank Pape, who has been named manager of the larger East Bay Division to succeed the late William H. Park.

Bishop, electric superintendent for the Coast Counties Gas and Electric Company until its merger into PG&E last year, has been in the utilities field since his graduation from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1925. He worked in Los Angeles, New York and Portland before joining the Coast Counties company, headquartered at Santa Cruz.

Selection of Day as a division manager caps a career which he begn with PG&E in 1923 when he was graduated in electrical engineering from Clemson College in South Carolina and became a third operator at the old Electra Powerhouse in Amador County. He became the foreman there eight years later and entered the managerial field in 1937, successively being in charge of PG&E offices at Newman, Vacaville, Grass Valley and Jackson. He was named electric superintendent for the Coast Valleys Division, headquartering in Salinas, in 1951 and took the similar post for the San Jose Division in 1953.

Los Gatos Census Shows No Gain In 5-Year Population

A special census at Los Gatos just completed and shows 4897 population today as compared with 4907, the official population figure set in 1950. Town officials, in authorizing the special census anticipated a count of 5500 so that additional allocations from gas tax, liquor tax and other state moneys might be realized.

The unofficial count was submitted by Mrs. Catherine Gaston, government special census supervisor to Town Manager Karl Baldwin and it is quite likely that the 1950 figure will be passed before the closing date is reached. Census takers have covered the town, and those not home, who have not reported, may yet have an opportunity to do so.

Baldwin said the initial estimate of 5500 was based primarily on new utility and telephone connections and new postal addresses.

However, he stated, where the town ran into difficulty was in projecting average number of persons per dwelling unit.

The town used a three-person ratio, he said, which is a conservative figure, but the ratio actually proved smaller, with many residences containing only one or two persons.

The census indicates, he said, that the larger family groups are moving out of the town limits to live, while the smaller olderage families are remaining.

The census cost the town nearly $1100, was requested by the town council earlier this year.

Each resident meant $8 a year to the town or $40 for the next five years until the next regular census in 1960. Now, however, if the missed persons reporting don't equal the 4907 figure of 1950 the town stands to lose ten names in state gas tax and in lieu of license fund in addition to the $1100 census cost.

SCHOOL ANNEX PLAN HITS A FLAW

Until one annexation is completed it is not possible that the Carlton Avenue school site of the Union District can be annexed to San Jose according to Kenneth McDonnell, district school superintendent.

McDonnell had been instructed by the Union school board to request annexation of the site to San Jose. If written and signed statements from San Jose officials would support all the verbal promises of service made to the board by Harold Seyforth of the San Jose planning department.

The board meets again Monday, April 11.

Actually, the board has no legal voice in the annexation of Union Elementary School in Union No. 2. However, San Jose has indicated willingness to make the annexation as painless as possible.

McDonell pointed out that the most costly question involved is San Jose's usual insistence on streets, sidewalks, and gutters on four sides of every school site.

Deadline Monday For Tax Payments

Roy Emerson, County Tax Collector said today that the State Controller's Office had called to his attention the change in delinquency date of the second installment of real property taxes. Formerly delinquent on April 20, the date was changed to April 10 by the 1953 session of the Legislature.

The law provides that this installment must be paid prior to 5:00 p. m. on April 10, and failure to do so subjects the taxpayer to a six percent penalty. The Controller's Office pointed out that there is no provision for an extension of time or for a waiver of penalty. The law also provides that payments by mail must be postmarked prior to 5:00 p. m. on the delinquency date in order to avoid the penalty.

Large Apricot Crop Expected

Apricot growers will have a large crop to harvest and sell this year, it was reported.

David T. Rayner, agricultural commissioner, said that while there has been some frost damage, particularly in the Mountain View area, that buds are very strong and also plentiful.

The early season is normal in timing and setting of blooms of apricots, as well as prunes is on schedule, he commented. Next on the bloom list will be pears, to be along next week after which cherries will burst their buds.

Rayner in his survey of area orchards pointed out the value of fall bordeaux sprays in apricot orchards. He revealed that bacterial canker is beginning to show up seriously in orchards which were not sprayed last fall. This bleeding as a result of the infections not only weakens fruit spurs, but damages trees.

Set of prunes, Rayner went on, will depend entirely on the weather from now on. Cool days can weaken the buds and cause considerable shedding.

Group Considers Change Name New Moreland School

The steering committee for the Moreland School District Advisory Committee met Friday evening, April 1, at the school to consider the report of the committee on school names.

Mrs. Annette Riordan presented the findings of the committee and outlined the work and research conducted by her group. Mrs. Riordan estimated that approximately 400 to 500 residents of the district had been contacted in an effort to poll public opinion. There is wide-spread dissatisfaction regarding the tentative name La Escuela de la Palma for the new school to be erected at San Tomas and Bucknell Roads. This information, together with suggestions for the new name will be presented at the next meeting of the board of trustees, April 12.

Eddie Krueger of Lantana Ave. was welcomed as the new representative of the White Oaks Terrace area.

Mr. Robert Brydon announced a meeting of the School Sites Committee to be held April 11, at 8 P. M. at his home Rte 2, Box 139, Latimer Ave.

Cancer Society Sets Friday As Red Sword Day

"Red Sword Day" will be Friday, April 15, according to C. E. Bradley, chairman of the Cancer Society in the Campbell High School District. This is the day the Cancer Society establishes booths in local stores to enable people not reached by campaign mail to give donations.

Between the hours 10:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. representatives will be at tables displaying Cancer posters and cans in Maderis Food Center and the American Trust Bank. In the Cambrian Park area, booths will be located in the Bank of America and Daughtery's Drug Store.

These booths will also have on sale tickets for the Footlighters' new play "Goodbye My Fancy" which is being sponsored by the Cancer Society on April 22 and 23. All proceeds from the sale of these tickets goes to the Society, so, whether the donation is made outright or a ticket to the play is purchased, the money will be used to further Cancer research.

Bradley said 5,000 letters have been mailed to householders in this area concerning this fund drive and he hopes to have a 75 or 85% return. The goal is to raise $1,200 from the Campbell area.

A neighbor-to-neighbor campaign is set for after Easter in the Cambrian Park area. In this campaign 10 women will make 20 calls and be able to cover 100 square blocks. The first resident in each block will be asked to give his donation and pass the Cancer can to his next door neighbor and so on until the can has completely encircled the block and is then picked up by the committee member.

Women to work on this committee are Mesdames Lee Diel, Leo Sarter, Donald C. Heath, Robert Nelson, Harlen Herbert, J. Baker, Howard Johnson, Alex Vucinich, Nicholas Guantone, Cecil Creech, and Arnold Von Stetina.

Los Gatos Doesn't Want Depot Moved

The Town of Los Gatos sent a letter to the Public Utilities Commission in protest over the Southern Pacific decision to abandon its passenger train service there on April 25 and to set up a station instead at Vasona Junction. Train service would originate from San Jose through Campbell, Vasona, Los Altos and Palo Alto to San Francisco on the new schedule. The terminal has been Los Gatos and trains have had to dead-head back to San Jose at the end of each run, returning the next morning.

Mayor A. E. Merrill in his letter said that public interest seeks that the 2½ mile distance from Los Gatos to Vasona be considered before final action is taken. Town Manager Karl Baldwin and Chamber of Commerce Secretary Ed Soderberg appeared in February before the PUC saying they would not object to the passenger service abandonment but only if SP abandoned freight service as the town wants the righ of way for parking facilities.

Mayor Merrill's letter was sent after a visit Thursday of SP officials. T. Louis Chess, general passenger agent for the SP, Raymond E. Marks, assistant to the vice-president, James McDonald, San Jose passenger agent and T. J McDaniels, trainmaster.

Chess stated the company's decision to make the change followed discussions in the recent past with town officials and Los Gatos commuters, and said the main reason is there are only about 12 fare-paying passengers riding the trains between Los Gatos and Vasona.

In addition, the move to Vasona, two and a half miles north of Los Gatos, he explained, is being made following a suggestion made by California Public Utilities Commission staff engineers in a report issued last January 20.

Queried on the possibility of abandoning the freight service, which would give the town possible access to the railroad right-of-way through the town, Chess declared that no doors have been closed on that issue.

"The SP," he stated, "is willing to sit at any time with the town to discuss the matter, but any proposals for abandonment would have to be made by Los Gatos."

Chess stated as far as he knew there was no movement afoot by the SP to abandon the freight. However, he emphasized that freight service is a distinct department from the passenger service and he could not guess the SP'S intention in that respect.

Mrs. Belle Hain of Tres Pinos visited her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Cutting of 97 N. Harrison, last Monday. Mr. Cutting is recuperating at home after a trip to the hospital last month.
